BATAVIA CUT OFF FROM INTERIOR

Separatists Seize Control Of Indonesian Republican Railway

BATAVIA, May 26 (A.P.I.): The Netherlands Information Services announced today that Sundanese People's Party had seized control of the Indonesian Republican controlled railway between Batavia and Buitenzorg and "placed it under the protection of the Netherlands army."

A Dutch spokesman said the Netherlands East Indies had been formally notified by A. Hoestomo, self-styled "Prime Minister of the State of Sunda", that the Sundanese separatists had seized eight railway (stations between Meester Cornelius, a suburb of Batavia, and Buitenzorg, as well as two other stations within Dutch territory between Buitenzorg and Soekiboema, a Republican city 30 miles south-west of Buitenzorg.

Unless the Dutch military headquarters permits normal rail traffic to continue, seizure of the rail line will entirely cut off Batavia from the Republican interior, will prevent rice coming in from the interior to feed the native population here and will leave Dr. Sultan Sjahrir, Premier of the Indonesian Republic, most of the Republican Cabinet and all of the Batavia branches of the Republican Government, without contact with the Government at Jogjakarta.

Meanwhile reports from Sourabaya said another "separatist movement" was organising there with the announced intention of breaking off the island of Madura from the Republic.

Quit And Leave India To Her Fate

MAHATMA SPEAKS OUT: CALL TO EVERY PATRIOT

Coherent Thinking Impossible While British Are Here

NEW DELHI, May 26. (A.P.I.): Mahatma Gandhi in his after-prayer speech this evening urged "every patriot, and certainly the British power, to face out the worst violence and leave India as it can be left under the Cabinet Mission's document of May 16 last year" and expressed the hope that "India free will not give the world an additional object lesson in violence with which it is already sick almost unto death."

LET THEM GET OFF

Recalling his remarks yesterday that it was unbecoming on the part of Indians to look to London for what the British Cabinet thought of the future of the country, Mahatma Gandhi said: "It is not for them to give us liberty. They can only get off our back. That they are under promise to do. But for keeping it and giving it shape, we have to look to ourselves.

"I promised to tell you how we were to do it. In my opinion, we are unable to think coherently whilst British power is still functioning in India. Its function is not to change the map of India. All it has to do is to withdraw and leave India if possible carrying on in an orderly manner, but withdraw in any case on or before the promised date, may be even in chaos.

THAT JOINT APPEAL

"But there is an additional reason why no vital change in the shape of a Hindustan with or without partition is not possible in the present state of the country. There is the joint statement issued by the Qaide Azam and me. It enunciates a sound principle that there should be no violence employed in the pursuit of political aim.

"If in the teeth of that document the country continues the mad career of violence of the worst kind and the British power is weak enough to submit to it in the vain hope that after the mad thirst is quenched, things will run smooth, it would have left a bloody legacy for which not only India but the whole world will blame her. We will then have learnt the cruel lesson that everything was to be got if mad violence was perpetrated in sufficient measure.

CALL TO EVERY PATRIOT

I would, therefore, urge every patriot, and certainly the British power, to face out the worst violence and leave India as it can be left under Cabinet Mission Document of 16th May last year.

Today in the presence of the British power we are only demoralised by the orgy of blood, arson and worse. After it is withdrawn, let me hope we shall have the wisdom to think coherently and keep India one or split it into two parts or more. But if we are bent even then on fighting, I am sure we will not be so demoralised as we are today, though admittedly all violence carries with it some amount of demoralisation.

I shall hope against hope that India free will not give the world an additional object lesson in violence with which it is already sick almost unto death."

EARLY TRANSFER OF POWER

Viceroy Will Have Wide Powers To Deal With Situation

LONDON, May 26, (U.P.A.): Despite some divergence of opinion on the plan of procedure for the transfer of power in India, the British Cabinet is unanimously agreed on the wisdom of effecting the transfer as quickly as possible to obviate the dangers of the interim period when British responsibility greatly exceeds British power in India, informed quarters said today.

Viceroy Mountbatten will continue his conversations with the British Cabinet Ministers on Tuesday, when the main topic will be the procedure to be adopted if the Indian leaders at the June 2 conference finally decide on the partition of India in preference to the British Cabinet Mission's plan.

Although he will make a final effort to convince the Indian leaders of the wisdom of accepting the Cabinet Mission's proposals, Moumbatten has already made it known that he believes that the transition of India into an independent nation will be the only suggestion sufficiently acceptable to the Indian leaders, enabling the British Government to hand over power to definite recipients.

The Viceroy has stressed, however, that such a procedure must leave

Palestine Commission Meets In First Session

LAKE SUCCESS, May 26 (U.P.A.): The Palestine Inquiry Commission met in its initial session today and heard a warning from Secretary General Trygve Lie that the eleven-member commission must remember that they represent "the hope and faith of millions of people" in the ability of the United Nations to solve the dispute.

Lie delivered a brief address as the committee met for the first time to begin the work of organizing itself and acting on the first real problem it will confront—whether to make spot visits to European displaced persons camps.

Lie in his remarks told the commission members that they "form a special committee of the United Nations which represents the hope and faith of millions of people. Their confidence in the ability of the United Nations to fulfill its momentous mission will be greatly influenced by the results of your work. As a committee, you will also inspire the confidence of the United Nations by studying the challenging problem of Palestine—fraught with so much emotion and passion, surrounded by so many appeals for humanity an for justice—in the characteristic spirit of a special committee of the United Nations: impartial, but not detached, objective, but deeply comprehensive."

Lie further warned, "The wide publicity which your report will receive will help towards better understanding in all countries and among all peoples of relevant questions and issues and, I sincerely hope, prepare the way for a just and workable solution which will be acceptable to all."

Lie pointed out that the Commission has the widest latitude in its powers to seek for facts and to investigate all questions regarding Palestine. He added that the one limitation was that of time. The Commission must complete its report by September 1st to permit the United Nations members to study the findings before the regular Assembly convenes in mid-September.

Lie did not mention any of the specific issues. He did not make any reference to the Jews, the Arabs or to any of the countries which played leading parts in the debate preceding the setting up of the commission.

He merely pointed out, "You will be

In the days of the debate preceding the setting up of the commission, the Arab states served notice that they were opposed to the Commission visiting Europe to investigate the displaced persons situation there. There were indications that they will receive support from some countries with India the likely leader.

JAWAHARLAL DISILLUSIONED

Says "Our Fight Is Not Yet Over": Call To Strengthen Congress

DEHRA DUN, May 25 (A.P.I.): Addressing a meeting of local Congressmen today, Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru said: "Many problems, some intricate though essential such as controls and some very distressing, such as the communal situation, are facing us, but bigger ones such as national independence and bearing responsibility for the future governance of the country must have priority."

"The circumstances which induced us to form the Interim Government have entirely changed now and had the later developments been foreseen by us, we would have perhaps refused to accept the offer", observed Pt. Nehru.

"The old slogans which helped us to drive the Britishers away from India have grown useless and out of date. Our fight is not yet over. But we should strengthen the Congress with renewed enthusiasm and direct the national dynamism, still intact, into right channels.

"The proposed division of the Punjab and Bengal has brought realism to League politics, but what is in store for us in future no one can say. This is the time for quick decision and the Congress still believes in Indian unity, though it decided as long ago as 1942 not to force any one to join the Indian Union."

Truman Arms Americas To Maintain Peace

CANADA INVITED TO JOIN HEMISPHERIC PLAN

Special U. S. Responsibility In World's Affairs Stated

WASHINGTON, May 26. (Reuter): President Truman today urged Congress to enact legislation for a programme of full military co-operation with Latin American countries including sale of arms, standardisation of weapons, and training of naval and military personnel.

COLLABORATION EXTENDED TO CANADA

"The collaboration authorised by the proposed Bill could be extended also to Canada, whose co-operation with the United States in matters concerning their common defence is now of particular importance", the President said in a message read to the House of Representatives.

This is the first time the President has publicly mentioned Canada in connection with hemispheric defence plans. Canada has not previously been involved in discussions since she is neither a member of the Pan-American Union nor a signatory to the Act of Chapultepec.

"The American Republics have assumed new responsibilities for their mutual defence and maintenance of peace in the Act of Chapultepec and the Charter of the United Nations," the message continued. "The close collaboration of American Republics provided for in the Act of Chapultepec makes it highly desirable to standardise military organisation, training matters and equipment, as has been recommended by the Inter-American Defence Board."

President Truman stressed: "It is my intention that any operations under this Bill shall be in every way consistent with the wording and spirit of the United Nations Charter. Special responsibility for leadership rests on the United States in this matter because of the preponderent technical, economic and military resources of this country.

"There is a reasonable and limited purpose for which arms and military equipment can rightfully be made available to other American States.

NO INDISCRIMINATE DISTRIBUTION

"This Government will not, I am sure, in any way approve of, nor will it participate, in indiscriminate or unrestricted distribution of armaments which would only contribute to useless burdensome armaments race. It is incumbent on this Government to see that military developments in which we have a part are guided towards maintenance of peace and security and that military and naval establishments are not encouraged beyond what security considerations require."

The Bill as suggested by President Truman in his message would authorise him to enter into agreements with other American States providing for:

(1) Instruction and training of military or naval personnel of such countries.

(2) Maintenance, repair and rehabilitation of military or naval equipment in possession of such countries.

(3) Transfer to them of any arms, ammunition and implements of war "consistent with the military and naval requirements of the United States and with national interest."

President Truman stressed that the proposed programme would be blended into the United States policy of encouraging sound economic conditions in Latin America.

PRE-REQUISITES TO PEACE

He added: "Improvement of living standards and advancement of social and cultural welfare are prerequisite to international peace and security. Operations under the proposed legislation will be conducted with full and constant awareness that no encouragement should be given to imposition on other people of any useless burden of armaments which would handicap economic improvement which all countries so strongly desire.

"The execution of the programme will also be guided by determination to guard against the placing of weapons of war in the hands of any groups who may use them to oppose peaceful and democratic principles to which the United States and other

Central Govt. Memorandum To Editors

Statements Having Bearing On Communal Situation Should Be Submitted For "Press Advice"

NEW DELHI, May 26 (A.P.I.): A memorandum which the Central Government have circulated to newspaper editors today says:—

"The Government of India desire to bring to the notice of editors of newspapers and news agencies the following decision arrived at with the concurrence of the 'ad hoc' Press Advice Committee regarding "press advising" of reports of a communal nature.

That in the "code" under the subhead "sources of News and Its Treatment" and below sub-para "C" the following be inserted as explanation (1) and (2).

(1) "Statements having a bearing on the communal situation made at Press Conferences should be submitted for "press advice" before publication.

(2) "The fact that a 'statement' or "article" has been passed by Provincial authorities should not operate to exclude it from reference to the 'ad hoc' Committee for advice before publication where such reference is required by the 'Code' or from voluntary compliance with the 'Code' by news agencies where such reference is not required."

Six months have passed since press advising was devised as a voluntary measure by the editors in Delhi in regard to the treatment of reports and articles touching on communal happenings.

MODIFICATION OF CODE

Experience of the working of the Code' has apparently shown need for some modification. Accordingly it is pointed out, on the advice of the 'ad hoc' Committee, the Government of India last week accepted a suggestion that while ordinarily the communities of assailants or victims in particular incidents should not be indicated directly or indirectly the naming of the community could be permitted in cases where that could be easily deducible from the context of the report itself.

PRESS CONFERENCES

In regard to statements made by leaders at Press Conferences doubts had arisen whether such statements were free from the obligation of press advising. This it is understood has been the subject of correspondence between the Government of India and the 'ad hoc' Committee. Today it has been announced in the form of a memorandum addressed to editors of newspapers and news agencies that statements having a bearing on the communal situation made at Press Conferences should be submitted for press advice before publication.

One other doubt which has also been cleared relates to statements or articles passed by a Provincial authority. The Government of India with the concurrence of the 'ad hoc' Committee have decided that the mere fact that a statement or article has been passed by a Provincial authority should not operate to exclude it from reference to the committee before publication where such reference is required by the 'Code.'

Instructions are being given to news agencies that such statements, communiques etc., issued by Provincial Governments or local authorities should be modified by them in a suitable manner before being transmitted or published.

FANTASTIC NONSENSE

Sardar Patel On Jinnah's Demand For Corridor

NEW DELHI, May 26 (UPA): Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Home Minister in the Interim Government, today characterised Mr. M. A. Jinnah's recent demand for a corridor connecting the eastern and western zones of Pakistan as "such fantastic nonsense as not to be taken seriously at all".

Patel, in a telegraphic reply to the question put to him by the United Press of America as to whether the corridor is practicable and whether the Congress would agree to it, said "The idea of a thousand-mile long corridor through a hostile non-Muslim area, on the face of it, is such fantastic nonsense as not to be taken seriously at all.

"The demand, itself", Patel's reply stated, "discloses the sponsor's lack of confidence in the Pakistan scheme".

Answering another question about the possibility of a sovereign Pakistan making agreements with foreign powers, without reference to Hindustan, Patel said: "The need for joint consultation on matters of defense and external relations already has been conceded by Mr. Jinnah. It is therefore inconceivable that a concession of extra territoriality or external arrangements will be made without consultation of Hindustan. Such action, Patel replied, "would be regarded as hostile".

G.D. Somani On Budget Burdens On Industry

ADDRESS TO SHAREHOLDERS OF SHREENIVAS COTTON MILLS

The Twelfth Ordinary General Meeting of the shareholders of The Shree Niwas Cotton Mills Ltd., was held at the Company's Registered Office at Shreeniwas House, Waudby Road, Fort, Bombay, at 11 A.M. on the 26th May, 1947. The Directors' Report and the Accounts for the year 1946 were duly adopted. A Dividend at the rate of Rs. 4/- per Preference Share and Rs. 25/- per Ordinary Share was declared

Presiding over the Meeting Mr. G. D. Somani said:—

The Directors' Report and the audited annual Balance Sheet and Profit and Loss Account for the year 1946 have been in your hands for some time and with your permission I will take the same as read. As briefly explained in the Directors' report the year under review saw the reduction of weekly hours from 54 to 48 and the regular working was also affected by frequent hartals and absenteeism due to disturbances and other reasons. This has all added to the cost of manufacture and the cloth prices having remained stationary throughout the year the profits were bound to be adversely affected. I have no doubt that the result shown under the circumstances will be regarded as fully satisfactory. As regards prospects for the current year, I must draw your attention to the fact that the labour situation continues to deteriorate and the frequent absenteeism, hartals and stoppage of work on the slightest pretext have created very uncertain conditions. Provided labour situation remains steady, the prospects may be still regarded as satisfactory, although the boom period which the Industry enjoyed in the war time is definitely over and we are gradually returning to normal conditions.

HEAVY BURDEN ON INDUSTRY

Gentlemen, as you are aware, the last budget proposals of the Government of India imposed a very heavy burden on trade and Industry of the country and although the original proposals were somewhat modified, the stock markets failed to recover from the original shock and conditions of acute depression and gloom persist and have aggravated alround. At a time when our popular Government should have provided additional incentive to private enterprise to implement the various big and vast schemes of industrial development so vital to raise the standard of living of the masses, it is a pity that they chose to administer a blow to all new enterprise and initiative and today we find consequently that such chaotic conditions have been created which make the raising of any fresh capital quite difficult and all new schemes and plans seem to be lying in cold storage. I hope the Government of India will after calm and dispassionate review of the whole situation take such suitable steps as will restore confidence in the markets.

FUTURE OF CLOTH CONTROL

In view of the controversy going on at present whether Cotton and Cloth Control should continue or be removed, it would be appropriate to make a few observations in the matter. So long as the supply of cloth continues far less than the demand, the complete decontrol may easily create chaotic conditions. Nobody would like the controls to continue a day longer than necessary, but the time is yet hardly ripe for removing the control altogether. But the position no doubt requires careful review and such modification and relaxation in the various control measures should be made as are justified and warranted by the present conditions. The greatest drawback of the control machinery has been the distribution system and the present defective system of distribution must be suitably modified at once. Whether distribution may be made entirely free or be kept under suitably modified form is a question which should be decided after close and minute review and examination of all its aspects.

THREE SHIFTS WORKING

Before concluding, I must also make a reference to the attitude of the Bombay Government regarding the three shift working of the Mills. Until recently the Millowners' Association had banned the third shift working amongst its members due to shortage of labour. The Government of India strongly criticised this ban and wanted the Association to do its best to encourage the working of the third shift. But now when some mills began to work the third shift, the Bombay Government have disapproved the same on the plea that the third shift is injurious to health. The introduction of night shift working is not new in India. It has been going on for several years. Up to August of last year, mills used to work 9-hour night-shift while 7½ hours only are contemplated to be worked under the third shirt arrangement. Certainly, in the larger interests of the country as a whole, the Bombay Government could wait if at all they wanted to interfere, till the cloth supply position became easy. I still hope our Labour Minister will reconsider this attitude and will encourage all possible steps to increase production.

I now propose, Gentlemen, that the Directors' report and the audited Balance Sheet and Profit and Loss Account for the year 1946 be and is hereby approved and adopted.

TATAS SURPRISED BY DOCKYARD

Solitary Goal Decides Issue

BOMBAY, Monday.

DOCKYARDS 1
TATAS 0

A solitary goal scored by inside-left Robertson in the first minute of play after resumption decided the issue of the tie between the Tata Sports Club and H.M.I. Dockyards. The winners should have scored many more goals but for the scoring lapses on the part of Beasley and Mc Murray. The former wasted at least three clear chances and the latter shot wide from 5 yards after beating everybody including Thingalaya. But for Mandon and Papen, the threat to the Tata goal would have been immeasurably greater for the Tata half line and the forwards did hardly anything even to deserve a mention. What few chances they had were spoiled and messed up by the forwards who were easily hustled off the ball.

With this early set back the Tatas might find it extremely difficult to be anywhere in the running for the championship.

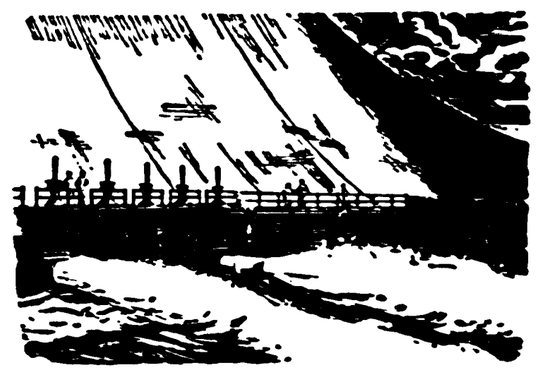
It all began on paper...



The Sukkur Barrage in Sind—by which the mighty Indus has been subjugated to man's service—was completed in 1932, at a total cost of approximately 17½ crores of rupees. Feeding seven main canals, six thousand miles of small canals and thirty-one thousand miles of irrigation channels, it has transformed Sind from a famine province into one of the most fertile in India.

As above, where once all vision shrivelled to endless barrenness, good soil now responds to the future, so in paper that plays its constant though indispensable role in the planning of the present.

THE LATE DR. BAZLUR REHMAN

Bombay Premier's Glowing Tribute

(From Our Correspondent)

VILE PARLE, Monday: "He was a man who throughout his life fought for oneness of humanity which is the essence of all religions" said Mr. B. G. Kher, the Prime Minister of Bombay, presiding over a largely-attended meeting of present and past students of the Ismail Yusuf College, Jogeshwari to mourn the loss of Dr. M. B. Rehman, the Principal of the College last evening. Continuing Mr. Kher said that they did not mourn for him because he was a great scholar or an educationist but because he taught his students to behave as human beings. The Premier urged the students of the college to follow in the footsteps of the late Dr. Rehman in these disturbed days and to live upto his message of communal fraternity.

Dewan Bahadur Krishnalal Jhaveri said that the late Dr. Rehman was not only a Principal to his students but was almost a father who took the keenest interest in their progress and welfare and was prepared to help them without any distinction of caste or creed.

Lt.-Col. Sir Jelal Shah said that Dr. Rehman was the architect of the institution which he nourished for the last twenty years with the greatest care. Dr. Kazi Abdul and others said that Dr. Rehman's death was a great loss to Muslim eductional activities. They urged the Government to fulfil Dr. Rehman's cherished wishes by constructing a hostel for girls and founding a Urdu University of which he was one of the sponsors. Prof. Mrs. Wagle-Dhuns on behalf of the College staff paid a warm tribute to her distinguished colleague and Mr. Wahedina on behalf of the past students spoke and urged on his hearers the great need of perpetuating his memory by erecting a suitable memorial in the College.

A Great Muslim Educationist

The following resolution was passed at the meeting of the Managing Committee of the Anjuman-i-Islam held on Friday:—

"The Committee of Management of the Anjuman-i-Islam expresses its great sorrow at the sad and untimely death of Dr. M. B. Rehman who was a great Muslim educationalist and a trustee of the Anjuman and places on record that in his demise the Anjuman in particular has lost its most ardent and active worker and that the community and country in general has suffered an irreparable loss.

The Committee, has also resolved to call a public meeting to express sorrow at the death of Dr. M. B. Rehman at an early date.

FUTURE CO-OPERATIVE ORDER

By far the most important decision taken by the seventh All-India Co-operative Conference and the 15th Conference of Registrars of Co-operative Societies which were recently held at Madras was to end this dualism in the Indian co-operative movement and to inaugurate a common Indian Co-operative Conference. It is doubtful whether at any time in the past there was a justification for two separate conferences, one official and the other non-official, in an essentially popular movement such as Co-operation ought to be. In any case since the inauguration of popular Governments in the provinces and at the Centre this dual regime has become worse than meaningless. It actually engenders a feeling of restiveness, on the one hand, and of suspicion, on the other. It is to be hoped that in future the combined efforts of all interested in the progress of the co-operative movement, whether they are in the category of officials of co-operative departments and institutions or are merely public-spirited friends of the co-operative movement will be turned to the single objective of using the co-operative principle to the maximum possible extent in rebuilding the social and economic order in India. There are bound to be differences of opinion as to the exact merits of particular proposals of reorganization, but we do not think that there is room any longer in this movement for the attitude of the official Government and the popular opposition that used to be assumed by the respective parties in the past. In co-operative organization of society, especially in the economic sphere as it obtains in our rural areas, there is undoubted need for the forces of organized social power to be integrated with the voluntary associations of the people seeking self-improvement with material assistance from the state. On the other hand, for the success of the co-operative movement and for inculcating among co-operators a healthy sense of democratic responsibility co-operative organizations must be encouraged to act more and more on their own responsibility. We are glad to note that there was substantial agreement between the two arms of the co-operative movement on this vital question, and we trust that in future our co-operators will follow in practice the wise dictum that "co-operation, like charity, begins at home".

Several important problems that now face the economic planner in India were exhaustively and authoritatively discussed at the two conferences. On the question of some type of joint farming which is now recognized to be the first major step in the reorganization of our agriculture the Registrars' Conference rightly refused to be dogmatic. Joint farming has had very disperate results according to the environment in which it has been tried elsewhere. While supporting schemes of some type of collective cultivation and underlining the importance of co-operation in that behalf the Conference suggested that a delegation should be sent to Soviet Russia to study at first hand the working of the several types of joint farming followed in that country. We learn that a similar delegation has already visited Palestine and that its recommendations are now receiving the attention of the Government of India. We welcome this further attempt at learning by others' experience in chalking out our own policy. It will in our opinion be also necessary to learn by our own experience and for this purpose pioneering efforts in regard to joint-farming should be energetically promoted almost immediately, without waiting for a final plan which may be chalked out in the light of collective experience. This is a matter in which the Provincial Governments ought not to wait upon a lead from the Centre. We do hope that, at least in our province, we shall have enough practical experience gathered in two to three years time so that the results may be used for a province-wide scheme of collective farming. Judging from the limited extent to which the co-operative society has progressed in our rural areas we expect that, before a scheme is introduced as a measure of compulsion, not only will objective proof of the marked superiority of the collective method be presented to the cultivators, but also that the consent of a majority of those who are affected by the new method of organization is secured for the same. It is to be hoped that the target of bringing 30 per cent of the rural population within the co-operative movement during the next five years suggested by the Saraiyya Committee and adopted by the two conferences will actually be attained. But even so, the large majority of persons affected will be outside the movement. The entire population affected by a measure must be educated in the benefits of the new method and by their majority they must welcome a coercive act. With the large variety of direct aids and contacts that are now being built up as parts of our rural schemes we do not believe that it will be difficult to get the villagers to agree to a scheme which will make them better off than what they are. In any case the time has not arrived when the existence of rural interests and rural opinion outside the co-operative movement can safely be ignored.

This sense of realism was naturally very significant in relation to the proposal for instituting agricultural finance corporations which was one of the important recommendations of the Gadgil Committee. The Committee itself had said that in provinces, where the co-operative movement is sufficiently developed and is ready to reorganize itself for the purpose of acting as instruments of a province-wide scheme of state-subsidized rural credit, a separate agricultural credit corporation need not be started. As was to be expected, the two co-operative conferences have declared that in all provinces existing co-operative structure should, with suitable modifications be utilized for attaining the purposes for which the Gadgil Committee had recommended for certain provinces the setting up of separate corporations. It now lies with the several Provincial Governments concerned to frame schemes so that these purposes are efficiently carried out. At least for our own province we have no doubt that, under the leadership of the Bombay Provincial Co-operative Bank, which, indeed, will have to be suitably reorganized on an expanded federal basis, the benefit of cheap and adequate credit will be carried to the villagers, whether they are at present within the co-operative movement or not. The recommendations made by the Saralyya Committee for the reorganization and development of the co-operative movement, as a first step towards the building up of a co-operative commonwealth, were generally endorsed by both the Conferences, and we hope co-operators as well as the Governments will bestir themselves to implement these so that before the co-operators meet again they will have to their credit some substantial achievements which may strengthen their suggestions for the future.

China's Guilty Men

No one except its enemies can fail to observe with deep pain and sorrow the worsening plight of a China torn by internal conflicts. For years friends of that great country and its people have hoped and prayed that its domestic political differences would be resolved bringing much-needed peace and unity to the nation that had suffered so long. The situation, instead, has been only deteriorating. And today China is fully plunged into a real civil war Where will it all end? Dr. Lo Lung-chi, the Democratic League leader, actually believes that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's National Government is on its last legs and that its fall is almost imminent if the U.S. does not come forward with "effective aid" in addition to economic assistance. This is too pessimistic a view. But Dr. Lo's anxiety and his criticism are not unjustified. The Communists are not alone responsible for China's internal crisis and they certainly are not responsible for the failure to unite other elements in China's political life, like the Democratic League and the students, behind the National Government. Much of all the trouble is due to the domination of reactionaries over the Kuomintang. The Generalissimo is admittedly and undoubtedly above reproach. He is the one great and unifying force in China, a worthy successor of Sun Yat-sen. But he has colleagues in the Kuomintang who are blind and rabid reactionaries and feudalists. General Marshall, no enemy of China but a known friend, himself denounced their disastrous activities in his report on China. China can be saved if the Kuomintang is saved from them. It is due to them that Communist revolt has gathered so much strength and the Democrats and youth of the entire nation have been alienated from the Kuomintang and the National Government. If those reactionaries are not eliminated from political life, and quickly, too, anything may happen which will be a great tragedy not only for China but for the whole of Asia also.

Frankly Speaking

An Urgent Problem

Inaugurating on Saturday last an exhibition of articles made by the children housed in the various institutions conducted by the Children's Aid Society, Bombay, Mr. B. G. Kher, Premier, made an earnest plea for the starting of children's homes on the lines of 'Barnardo Homes' in England. Speaking with understandable warmth, Mr. Kher described as "one of the greatest crimes of Bombay", the city's indifference and callousness towards "the little waifs who roam about the streets in dirt and filth, deprived of the elementary necessities of life—food, shelter and clothing, education and a chance of developing into decent citizens—with nothing to look forward to but a life of beggary and shame." The lamentable state of affairs described by Mr. Kher is so obvious and looms so large and ugly that it is hardly necessary to dilate upon it. It is but an aspect of the conditions of incredible and all-consuming poverty in which the vast masses of India live the abolition of which must be one of the most urgent tasks of Provincial as well as Central Governments of free India. And it is equally obvious that in any scheme designed for the rehabilitation of this derelict humanity, the care of children must take first place. The grown-ups—the men and women who have been shaped into physical and mental defectives, parasites, vagabonds, delinquents and criminals by a blind, unjust and oppressive environment which they have not the power to fight or resist—no doubt call for equally urgent attention. If the little ones are caught before they are fully started on the road to ruin, society will have rendered service not merely to them but also to itself, because, if they are handled as they should be, there is little doubt that they will when grown to manhood, more than clear their debt to it. Mr. Kher, therefore, rightly appealed to Bombay's citizens to support an organised movement for conducting more children's homes, instead of the usual practice of grudgingly throwing a coin at a beggar child, as a salve to one's conscience.

Real Solution

But it is a matter to be pondered over if private philanthropy can be trusted to do all that needs to be done in this matter. Charity will not be adequate to handle the vast and baffling problem of destitute and delinquent children. While philanthropy is welcome and may be supported and encouraged, it has obvious limitations. The same question arises in connection with the appeal for funds made by Mr. Kher at another function on Sunday. Laying the foundation stone of Seth Vadilal Chaturbhuj Gandhi and Seth Monji Amidas Vora Municipal hospital at Ghatkopar Mr, Kher suggested that there were three "channels" for the absorption of hoarded wealth. It was either given in charity, spent on personal enjoyment, or it became extinct. (He could have added that 'hoarded' wealth could and should be taken up by taxation by a wise Goverament). Charity, to which Mr. Kher gave first place must, of course, have certain fields reserved for it, where Government action is far from welcome. But it must be noted that in the solution of vast problems such as Public Health and Infant Aid, charity can only supplement plans organised, directed and financed by Government. Philanthropy cannot—at any rate in the circumstances prevailing in India today—take the place of Government effort, in the solution of the many tasks of rehabilitation that await energetic tackling.

Balkan Commission's Report

The result of the activities of the United Nations Balkans Enquiry Commission was anticipated long ago and so was the conflict among the members. Eight members, including the U. S. and British representatives, have found that Yugoslavia and—to a lesser extent—Albania and Bulgaria have assisted guerilla forces fighting against the Government in Greece. Two others the Soviet Union and Poland—have voted against the majority finding while France has abstained. The differences in the Commission only reflect and emphasise the division of the Allies in the last war into two camps and their manoeuvres and intrigues against each other. The report will now go to the Security Council where the alignment will be confirmed and the matter shelved. It may be that the publicity given to the trouble in that area of the Balkans may informally help to improve the situation. There is, however, also the danger of that trouble being intensified and developing into a serious international crisis. In fact, there has already started an exchange of accusation and counter-accusation, Albania charging Greek planes with bombing an Albanian town and Greece charging an Albanian boat with opening fire on a Greek town. The issue between Anglo-American supported Greece and its Soviet supported neighbours is becoming a test of international statesmanship.

A Noteworthy Charge

Another point in the report of the Commission is worth noting. It may be true and it is quite likely that the majority view is right when it blames the neighbours of Greece for assisting the guerillas and for supporting the plan of a Federated Macedonian State within the Yugoslav Federation which constitutes interference in the internal affairs of Greece and an attack on Greek sovereignty. But Greece is to blame for creating the opportunity for its neighbour's activities. The report specifically charges Greece with persecuting its Slavonic Macedonian minorities. What is the United Nations Organisation going to do about it? But this persecution of minorities is only an additional charge—and a significant proof—of the utterly reactionary nature of the present Greek regime. Its policy of suppression and repression has created nationwide discontent among Greeks and forced revolt and rebellion in the border areas. The regime is a denial of the democracy which America and Britain profess to stand for and which President Truman has rushed to protect with the mighty dollar. If the Soviet bloc is to blame for creating troubles, the "Democratic" bloc should also accept blame for sustaining an undemocratic regime in Greece which by its actions furnishes so much excuse for those troubles.

Red-Tape And Grow More Food Campaign

Sir,—Both the Central and Provincial Governments on innumerable occasions have declared that they are very keen to help the 'Grow More Food' campaign and have issued the necessary orders to their departments to help the public to bring every plot of uncultivated land under cultivation. Encouraged by these promises of the Government, the Divisional Forest Officer, Dharwar-Bijapur Division, was requested to grant some land (which was once under cultivation but subsequently relinquished to the Forest Department) situated at the village Aewatgi in the Dharwar District. This land is at present not cultivated and is surrounded by other private lands which are under cultivation. The soil of this land is quite fit for growing rice crops. A part of this land is also suitable for poultry farming. In this land there are some 300 trees of ordinary type worth Rs. 375 only. The D. F. O. in his letter No. G/3835 dated 12-10-1946 consented to give these lands to the applicant on 'Ekauli pasis' the only condition being that the cost of the trees as arrived at by the Forest department according to the rules plus the assessment at Rs. 2-10-0 per acre should be paid to the Government. This had the concurrence of the Conservator of Forests, Southern Circle. This was agreed upon and preparations were made to execute the deeds and cultivate the lands But the worthy Conservator of Forests changed his mind at this stage and ordered that the lands should not be granted as they were reserved for ex-soldiers.

On a representation to the Chief Conservator of Forests, Poona, the same Conservator agreed to grant these lands but on agri-silviculture basis—i.e., trees should be grown in the land at an interval of 50 feet and crops should be grown in the strips of land between these trees. Such cultivations are made in the Forests, especially in the North Kanara District, for growing rabi crops. This arrangement in not at all suitable for growing rice corps for which alone these lands are suitable. Besides, according to the Government order the trees and the jungle in and around the cultivable lands should be cleared at least to the extent of 2 furlongs to enable the crops grow freely without damage. Hence it was inadvisable to allow the trees to grow in the land which is proposed to be utilised for growing rice crops. Moreover, if these trees are allowed to grow in the land, the lands which are adjoining to these land and which are used for rice crops will be affected adversely. This position was clearly explained to the Chief Conservator of Forest who, however, refused to change his attitude simply to maintain the prestige of his earlier orders and refused to agree to the permanent deafforestation of these lands and granting them for pure cultivation. When Government were approached with an appeal to reconsider this decision, they too did not agree to the above proposal.

The institution of red-tape in all the Government departments is so deep-rooted that, however much the Ministers may desire to accomplish a thing red-tape cuts into bits the noble intention of the Ministers and they are never allowed to become a reality. If these Departmental officers and those at the Secretariat of Government open their eyes and look about with a broader and realistic view and help all the un-cultivated lands that are at present in the waste condition to be cultivated giving full scope to the cultivators for cultivation, India will produce more than enough food in its soil and it will not have to beg of other countries for food. Will, the Ministers therefore open their eyes and look into the machinery of their Government which is definitly rusted and requires complete overhauling.—Yours, etc

Pay Commission For Private Employees

Sir,—The findings of the Pay Commission instituted by the Government of India published in the papers have given relief to a section of the State employees and the report was equally thrown spanners in the day dreams of higher salaried officials. Such a Commission was long overdue and it is laudable that something has been done to ameliorate the condition of the Government lower salaried employees though it involves a huge amount which has to be paid by the common tax payer through his nose. Now that state employees have been given a fair deal, it is imperative that Government should start a similar commission for those employed in private service. In spite of trade union strikes etc., deplorable state of affairs exist in many private companies. Even after 14 and 15 years of yeoman's service many employees are without any appreciable progress economically. In certain places, leave rules, the starting scale of pay, the conditions of employment are so bad that immediate steps must be taken to force upon the employers certain decisions aiming at better conditions. Government cannot be completely absolved of its indirect responsibility for those despicable conditions. Some sort of intervention by Government is absolutely essential to improve status and to force upon in different employers decisions improving the conditions of the Private employees. This is a very complicated process but it is inevitable.—Yours etc.

"Bombay All Malayalee Conference"

Sir,—The term "Bombay All Malayalee Conference" is a misnomer and is, therefore, highly misleading.

As a Malayalee who belongs to one of the many Malayalee organisations in Bombay, I would like to point out that the organisation known as Bombay All-Malayalee Conference does not represent even a very minute fraction of the nearly one lakh Malayalees of Bombay. As far as I know there are not less than a dozen Malayalee organizations in Bombay like Bombay Keraleeya Samaj, Kerala Youth Congress, Parel Malayalee Samajam, Sewri Malayalee Association, Bombay Keraleeya Thozhilali Seva Sanghem, Bombay Keraleeya Sahitya Samajam, Travancore Peoples Association, Lal Bag Malayalee Samajam, Malabar Christian Association, Malabar Catholic Association, etc. good many of these organisations are really strong and are definitely more representative and powerful than the Bombay All Malayalee Conference. As there is a likelihood of the public of Bombay being misled as to the representative character of the Bombay All Malayalee Conference, all the other Malayalee organizations should vehemently protest against the term "All Malayalee" being used for sectarian and parochial ends.—Yours etc.

Bombay Andhra Conference

Sir,—A conference of all Andhras in Bombay is going to be held on 31st May and 1st June 1947 at Worli Bombay. Shrijut Namidipudi Venkata Rangiajagaru, M. A. ar eminent economist and historian and retired Principal of Andhra University College will preside over it The conference is unique in the sense that Andhra belonging to different parts of Andhra Desa namely Northern Circars Telangana and Royalaseema are joining hands and striving for the attainment of their common political economic, social and cultural objectives. So in its deliberations the conference will cover all aspects of social life of man.

Traffic Jams On Queen's Road

Sir,—I write to invite the attention of the authorities and also the public to the urgent need to relieve the pressure of fast-moving traffic on Queen's Road which results in congestion and the slowing down of the pace of traffic leading to frequent jams and hold-ups. This is especially the case near the Opera House where this road joins the Sandhurst Bridge and it is a common sight to see every evening long rows of vehicles held up at the approaches to this junction causing not only obstruction but also inconvenience and danger to both vehicular and pedestrian traffic.

The volume of fast-moving traffic on Queen's Road has increased in recent years and all types of tariffs are carried on this road from human propelled hand-carts to the latest modelled automobiles. In the interest of traffic safety and the orderly and smooth flow of traffic I appeal to motorists proceeding from the Fort to Malabar Hill, Cumballa Hill and the Suburbs of Bombay to make use of the New Marine Drive especially during the peak hours of the evening i.e. between 5 and 7 p.m. Such a step will result in the better distribution of traffic and whilst eleminating the existing difficulties will further the smooth and regular flow of traffic This will be beneficial also to the pedestrians proceeding towards Chowpatty to cross the road in safety and comfort. In addition such diversion of traffic will remove the present hold-up near the Opera House and enable motorists to make a saving in the petrol consumption of their cars This will also assist the police to ensure better traffic control and remove any justification for declaring the Opera House the dead end of the road thereby preventing motorists to proceed further up.—Yours, etc.

PAY COMMISSION REPORT

MINORITY RECOMMENDATIONS

By DINKAR DESAI, General Secretary, Bombay Provincial Trade Union Congress.

The report of the Central Pay Commission contains some very important minutes of dissent signed by two members of the Commission, namely, Mr. N. M Joshi and Sardar Mangal Sing. The minority recommendations made by these two members seek to give a better treatment to the employees than what has been meted out to them by the Commission as a whole. Unfortunately, these minority recommendations have not attracted the attention they reserve in the newspapers. This is due to the fact that the summary of the recommendations of the Commission, as released to the press by Government, does not refer to the minority view. A careful perusal of the whole report of the Commission clearly brings out the importance of the minority view expressed by Mr. Joshi and Sardar Mangal Singh on various matters. The purpose of this article is to analyse these minority recommendations, so that the Government employees and the public may be in a better position properly to judge the recommendations of the Commission in the light of what these two members had to say.

The Living Wage

The Commission have expressed their view that "in no case should a man's pay be less than a living wage". Mr. Joshi and Sardar Mangal Singh have rightly pointed out that the minimum wage recommended by the Commission "is not quite a living wage". (P. 38) They, therefore, recommended a minimum basic wage of Rs. 40, excluding dearness and other allowances, instead of Rs. 30 as recommended by the Commission for the lowest paid employees in class IV. Similarly, for the middle class employees such as clerks in class III they suggest a minimum basic salary of Rs. 65 instead of Rs. 55 as recommended by the Commission.

Higher Scales Suggested

The time-scales suggested by Mr. Joshi and Sarda Mangal Singh for employees both in class III and Class IV are much higher than the scales recommended by the Commission. This is clear from the comperative tables given below: (P.p. 42-43).

CLASS III EMPLOYEES

Scales recommended by the Commission:..

(a) 55-3-85?E. B.-4-125—5-130.
(b) Rs. 60-5/2-75.
(c) Rs. 60-4-120 E B.-5-170.
(d) Rs. 75-3-105.
(e) Rs. 80-5-120-E B.-8-200-10-2-220.
(f) Rs. 100-8-125-6-155-E.B.-6-185.

Scales suggested by Joshi and Singh: —

(a) Rs. 65-5-120-6-180.
(b) Rs. 70-5-100-6-160-8-200.
(c) Rs. 75-8-100-8-160-200.
(d) Rs. 80-6-140-8-180-10-250.
(e) Rs. 100-6-160-8-200-10-250.

Class III comprises the largest number of educated, skilled or trained employees. It is important to note that there is no efficiency bar in the scales suggested by the two members. The maximum salary in each grade suggested by them is much higher and the minimum salary is also higher in the first four grades.

CLASS IV EMPLOYEES

Recommended by the Commission:—
Rs. 30-1/2-35.
Rs. 35-1-50.
Rs. 40-1-50-2-60.

Recorrended by the two members:—members:—
Rs. 40-1-50-2-60.
Rs. 45-1-50-2-70.
Rs. 50-2-70-3-85.

Proper Promotions

Mr. Joshi and Sardar Sing add: "Opportunity for education and training should be provided to all employees of class IV by evening classes. No initial recruitment should be made to any one of the higher scales while there are fit persons available in any of the lower scales." (P 43). If the recommendations of the two members had been accepted by the Commission, the improvement in the condition of the employees in Class IV would have been very substantial over the position recommended by the Commission.

House Allowance

According to the recommendation of the Commission, only those employees residing in cities with a population over one lakh are entitled to house-rent allowance. The two dissenting members have suggested that "independently of the population limit of one lakh public servants drawing a pay of Rs. 100 or less should be entitled to some house rent allowance in all municipal towns." (P. 50).

In addition to these joint recommendations made by Mr. Joshi and Sardar Mangal Singh there are some suggestions which are made by Mr Joshi alone. Although all these suggestions are valuable, the more important of them may be mentioned here.

Overtime Rat

With regard to the overtime rate, the Commission holds the view that the general claim for twice the normal rate for all kinds of work is unjustified. Mr. Joshi disapproves of this view and thinks that "payment for overtime work at twice the usual rates is essential for all overtime work." (P. 60).

On the question of differentiation of pay on the ground of sex, Mr. Joshi, disagreeing with the Commission and upholding the principle of equal pay for equal work, says that "there is no justification for paying women less for doing the same or similar work." (P. 62).

Regarding temporary employees, Mr. Joshi thinks that conditions of service for temporary employees should generally be the same as for permanent employees. The Commission do not agree with this view. (P. 73).

Leave Rules

Mr. Joshi disapproves of the discrimination made by the Commission against Class IV employees in the matter of leave rules. His remarks on this question are so important that they deserve to be quoted at length He says: (P. 85).—

"I am not in favour of any discrimination being made in regard to the grant of leave between Class IV service and the other services. I consider that there is no real justification for discriminating against Class IV. In the Social system which prevails at present wherein manual labour is not only less paid than it deserves but is looked down upon, there is not only less paid than it deserves but is looked down upon, there is even justification for some discrimination being made in favour of Class IV, such as in providing him with medical leave on full pay when his leave is exhausted and he has to take 'leave not due' on medical certificate. Manual work is as essential for the good of Society as any other class of work and the removal of any discrimination which at present exists to the disadvantage of manual workers will do good to the community as a whole."

"Even in the matter of medical leave the employees of Class IV will be at some disadvantage inasmuch as their earned leave, in a given period, will be less than that of employees of other classes and so when an employee of Class IV becomes sick, his earned leave for being converted into full pay leave on medical certificate will be less than that of an employee of other classes and consequently medical leave on full pay will be available to him for a shorter period than an employee of other classes and he will have to take 'leave not due' on half pay much earlier if his sickness continue longer than the period of his earned leave."

Conciliation Machinery

Lastly, Mr. Joshi has contributed a valuable note regarding machinery for conciliation. This Note is published as an appendix to the Report. Although the Commission did not concur in all the suggestions made in the Note, they consider that most of the suggestions contained therein "deserve consideration if the Government desire to place the relations between themselves and their employees on a basis of friendly co-operation." (P. 121).

"One hears a good deal about His Majesty's Government wanting to restore to the Indian States the status the latter enjoyed prior to the arrival of the British. SUSPENSION OF GHETTO BILL PREREQUISITE TO R. T. CONFERENCE

Transvaal Indian Congress' Resolution

(From Our Correspondent)

JOHANNESBURG, May 26.—Johannesburg "Rand Daily Mail" states that Ahmed Ismail, President, South African Indian Congress, has cabled Pundit Nehru, Nawabzada Liaquat Ali Khan, Mrs. Sarojini Naidoo, Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit and former Agents General Sayed Raza Ali and Raja Sir Maharaj Singh urging, "that under the changed circumstances the opportunity to resume diplomatic relations with the object of larger discussions be seized, and the High Commissioner be reposted."

"Transvaal Indian Congress at its most representative Conference held on May 11 passed unanimously and conveyed the same respectfully to the Government of India." "that the prerequisite to a Round Table Conference or restoration of diplomatic relations between the two Governments is at least suspension of Ghetto Act with the ultimate goal of its entire repeal." This resolution expresses fully the standpoint of the Indian community not only of Transvaal but of Natal as well. Natal Indian Congress is Conference meeting next week-end. Ahmed Ismail's statement is unauthorised by South African Indian Congress. At present legal proceedings are pending against Ahmed Ismail. In the meantime his statement to press can at best be his personal views and not of Indian community. They are certainly not views of 99 per cent of Indian community in South Africa.

Similarly the delegation of Natal Indian Organisation whose membership is given by the sponsors as 150 interviewed General Smuts and without mandate of the public of Natal urged Prime Minister "to take all possible steps to resume diplomatic relations with India" is at best the opinion of 150 members.

We maintain that return of High Commissioner to South Africa should not be prerequisite to Round Table Conference as one of the questions the Round Table Conference will have to decide is the question of restoration of diplomatic relations between two Governments on basis as existed before passing of Ghetto Act.

We have fullest confidence in Indian Government to deal with our question in consonance with self-respect of Indian community of Union more so of the honour of Indian nation particularly not forgetting the sacrifices of over 1700 passive resisters who already courted imprisonment and suffered so zealously to guard theirs and India's prestige struggle continues and will continue until UNO decision is implemented by Union Government

QUEEN MARY'S BIRTHDAY

Windsors Not Included Among Guests At Luncheon

LONDON, May 26 (A.P.A.): Queen Mary, celebrating her 80th birthday on this Whit Monday which sent thousands to the nation's holiday spots was toasted by thirty-one members of the Royal Family at a birthday luncheon in Buckingham Palace today.

Along with the King and Queen and Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and the Duchess of Kent honoured the stately Dowager Queen who was cheered warmly when she left Marlborough House, her official residence, for the palace.

At her own request no general official observance had been arranged for the day, the death last Saturday of her son-in-law, the Earl of Harewood, having cast a shadow over the Royal Family's restricted festivities.

The Duke of Windsor visited his mother this morning, but he and his American-born Duchess, who has never been received by Queen Mary, were not luncheon guests. Present too were her daughter, Princess Mary widowed by Harewood's death, and the new Earl of Harewood.

Marlborough House was swamped with congratulatory telegrams, letters and telephone calls. Queen Mary insisted on reading all the wires and mail herself. Among the earliest callers, eager to sign the visitors' book, were various Ambassodors and Ministers to the court of Saint James. Messengers by the dozen bore floral tributes to the Queen.

Lieutenant Philip Mountbatten, former Prince of Greece whose name has been linked romantically with Princess Elizabeth, was one of the birthday luncheon guests.

During the afternoon, large crowds gathered outside the palace and Queen Mary appeared on the balcony with the King and Queen and other members of the family.

Another U. S. Negro Lynched?

JACKSON, (North Carolina), May 26, (Reuter): Police today continued the search for the 25-year old Negro, Godwin Bush abducted from the Northampton County gaol on Friday by armed and masked white men.

Despite rumours that Bush eluded his captors, police officers still believe that the Negro who had been charged with attempted assault on an unmarried white woman may hav been lynched.

It was later reported from Raleigh, North Carolina, that Bush was lodged in a prison there last night after he had given himself up.

The F.B.I. confirmed that Bush made a desperate breakway from the band of masked White men who removed him from the gaol.

CHINESE RELIEF SHIP BOMBED

SHANGHAI, May 26, (Reuter): The relief ship "Chinlen" belonging to the China National Relief and Rehabilitation Administration"—the Chinese equivalent of the U.N.R.R.A.—was hit by a bomb and straffed by an unknown aircraft today at Shihchituo, a Communist—held port, 60 miles South of Tsingtao.

The ship's radio went dead after reporting the attack.

No details of the damage or casualties were given.

Ambernath Silk Factory Stay-In Strike

Mrs. Godavari Parulekar, Secretary, Silk-Woollen-Leather Factory Workers' Union, Ambernath, writes:—

"About 3,000 workers from the Silk-Woollen and Leather factories at Ambernath owned by Ahamed Abdul Karim Bros., Ltd., have been on a stay-in strike since the 17th of May. Some of the main demands of the workers are, that they should be paid the same scale of dearness allowance as is paid by the Wimco Match Factory at Ambernath or the mill-owners in Bombay. That a fair minimum wages should immediately be fixed. That a wage cut recently introduced should immediately be restored, and that the housing accommodation, Ambernath being only a factory town, should be provided for all the employees of the factories.

The scale of wages and dearness allowance paid to the workers is miserably low, will be evident from the following facts.

The average number of members per unit of a family of workers as worked out by the Labour Office is 4.2. The employees in certain departments of these factories are paid at the rate of annas eight and ten per day generally, for twenty-six days in a month and dearness allowance 2/3 of Bombay. At this rate the minimum amount available per day per member works out at about annas four and annas five inclusive of dearness allowance, which is hardly sufficient today even to exist.

The strike was precipitated because in addition to these low wages the employer introduced a wage-cut in the womens' wages in the Perching Department of the Woolle Factory. The workers have carried on their legitimate strike very peacefully for ten days. They approached the Government with a request to intervene and open negotiations on the 19th May. Ten days have elapsed and nothing effective has been done so far by the Labour Office.

Workers' today are reluctant to do anything that would affect production. They have been forred to take this step by the employer, and have been forced to continue the strike due to delay on the part of the Government. They are willing to settle the dispute amicably.

PEACE-TIME CONSCRIPTION POLICY ACCEPTED

British Labour's New Deal To Crown Colonies

MARGATE, May 26. (Reuter): The British Labour Party Conference today endorsed the Government's conscription policy by a four to one majority.

A statement on colonial policy by last year's Chairman, Prof. Harold Laski, was the other highlight of the day.

The debate on conscription was lively, as pacifism of pre-war days still has a strong hold on many sections of the Labour movement. The mover of the resolution, appealing against loss of liberty under the present law, said that the last conscript to be called up under it would not be free from the military machine until 1961, 16 years after the end of the war.

Mr. J. S. Worrall seconding said that Britain was tying herself to the United States in military matters and the application of conscription was the result of the visit to America of Field-Marshal Lord Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial General Staff.

But the most impassioned and the most loudly applauded speech of the conference so far came from Mr. Rhys Davies, white-haired member of Parliament, who declared: "I protest against our party militarising the nation in peace time for the first time in history. You never told the electorate at the last general election that you were going to do this."

Replying for the executive, Prof. Laski said that the Government of Britain must be in a position to defend Britain and the only alternative to conscription was the old-time recruiting by poverty, hunger and unemployment or by giving the army privileges so outstanding that it became a special caste in the community.

The motion was defeated by 2,332,000 to 571,000.

The resolution on Colonial Policy accepted by the Executive urged the Government not only to abandon the Imperialism of the past, but to make reparation for it by colonial development and effective fight against disease, poverty, ignorance and malnutrition. It asked:

1. Officials appointed as Governors should be competent civil administrators.

2. Higher administrative and technical posts should be in practice open to the native population.

3. Expert and administrative staffs should be appointed from those who are in sympathy with the local people.

4. Coloured races in Crown Colonies should be given equal status and opportunity with the White races and to this end the standard of general education be raised.

5. Industrial and agricultural development be given priority to ensure full employment and better standards of living for coloured people who should be accorded full trade union rights.

6. Steps should be taken to ensure that the Socialist measures outlined by the Colonial Office are fully explained to all officials concerned so that the schemes may be carried out quickly and effectively."

During the discussion, Mr. Arthur Creech Jones was described both from the floor and from the platform as the best Colonial Secretary Britain had ever had.

A speaker who tried to discuss the problem of Indians and Africans in South Africa was ruled out of order because a Dominion was not covered by the resolution referring to colonies under direct United Kingdom responsibility.

Prof. Laski replying said that the resolution was pushing against open doors giving details of work the Government had already done to meet the points raised by it. He described as "an important blow to clour bar" the directive from the Colonial Office for employment of natives in higher grades of the administration at the same salary as for the White staff.

many issues which could not be settled by agreement during the British time-table for the transfer and he has voiced the conviction that "absolute chaos" must overtake Northern India when the rival factions are left to sort things out according to their own ideas.

PROCEDURE DETAILS

On Wednesday, the Viceroy is scheduled to hold long conversations at the India Office concerning the details of procedure if the Indians decide on partition.

The India Office discussions will include the question of plebiscites on inclusion in Hindustan or Pakistan which, informed quarters said, must be applied to the North-West Frontier and probably Assam.

There will be no detailed discussions on the reorganization of the Indian Army. The British Cabinet is agreed that any decisions in this respect must be shelved until the Indian leaders' final word on matters of national defence is known.

There will be no special meeting of the full Cabinet before the Viceroy's return to India on Thursday. Prime Minister Attlee is returning to London from the Labour Party Conference at Margate on Tuesday and it was believed that he would have a final conversation with the Viceroy prior to the latter's departure.

KRISHNA MENON'S MOVE

Meanwhile, Pandit Nehru's adherents continued their unflagging efforts in the cause of United India which, Nehru has reiterated, is the Congress Party's goal.

Nehru's personal representative, V. K. Krishna Menon is going to Margate on Wednesday, apparently to contact the Labour Party Ministers who are attending the Party's conference. It was believed that Menon would make a special point of contacting Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, who was not present at last Friday's full Cabinet meeting which discussed the decisions on India.

Bevin has persistently voiced the conviction that there can be no solution other than a United India with Dominion Status, and Menon apparently hopes to utilize Bevin's influence to the full in his efforts to salve as much of India as possible from communal separatism.

WIDE POWERS FOR VICEROY

British political quarters believe that Viceroy Lord Mountbatten will return to India this week with wide powers to act on his own initiative at the procedure conference with Indian leaders opening on June 2, Cables Fraser Wighton, Reuter's political correspondent. The eve-of-departure meeting of the Viceroy and the Cabinet's India Experts which expected to be held in the next 48 hours, will undoubtedly reflect the confidence inspired in the British Government by Lord Mountbatten's realistic handling of the Indian situation since he took office just over two months ago.

The Prime Minister Mr. Clement Attlee, anticipating that the Viceroy may desire this last minute check-over of the programme with the Cabinet Experts, plans to return from the Labour Party National Conference at Margate soon after his speech tomorrow. If necessary he will be available at his official residence, 10 Downing Street, by evening and so will other India Experts with the exception possibly of Mr. A. V. Alexander, who is attending the Co-operative Conference.

Lord Mountbatten will carry back with him the final draft procedure plan which he is to offer to the Indian leaders, and which the British Cabinet has approved and of which British Opposition leaders and Dominion leaders have been informed. His message to the conference can be summed up in a sentence. "Final political decisions are imperative now and they must be made not by Britain but by India".

It has already been indicated authoritatively that the present Delhi-London direct contact inaugurated in the first place by General Lord Ismay, Lord Mountbatten's Chief of Staff, may be first of a series. Further contacts of this kind are expected whatever the decisions taken at the conference. It is impossible at the moment to say, however whether the Viceroy himself, with numerous tasks connected with the transfer facing him, will be able to repeat his flying visit to England in the near future.

Sabavala On

RIGHT MAN FOR THE RIGHT JOB AND A JOB FOR EVERY MAN

Mr. A. P. Sabavala, Mayor of Bombay broadcasting on Monday night from the Bombay station of the A. I. R., said:—

"The Employment Exchanges set up by the Government of India, although born of the necessity of finding rehabilitation for men employed in the war effort, register the names of those who need employment together with necessary particulars about their capacity to handle work and try to contact those who need labour and arrange for the employment of the men registered with them. "At present Employment Exchanges have been established at 71 centres, including Bombay and Ahmedabad, under the Director General of Resettlement and Employment. The Employment Exchanges deal primarily with service men and discharged war workers, which include workers in Railways, Dockyards, Civil Supplies and non technical personnel. I hope Textile workers will be brought within the scope of these Exchanges. Civilians are also registered for work for which there is demand. The Employment Exchanges are thus open practically to all types of trades.

"Unfortunately these Employment Exchanges have so far been looked upon by the public as mere experimental measures. This is not so. These are measures backed by our popular Governments, both Central and Provincial. India is coming into her own. Very soon a full-fledged Indian National Government will have been established in the country. This popular Government will then have to proceed with the post-war rehabilitation schemes which they have already formulated. These schemes will naturally require immense technical and non-technical man power in various trades and occupations under State control or under private enterprise.

I would like to address a word of caution especially to the ex-service men, not to pitch their demand for wages too high. Of the several advantageous offered by Employment Exchanges the most important is that they do away with the middle man who has been a long standing menace in the industrial world both to workers and employers. The information supplied by the Employment Exchanges will help Government in drawing up programmes for unemployment insurance, sickness insurance and other reforms which are sadly lacking in our country. I would like to make some suggestions to the Exchanges. They should not be mere post offices but should function as helpful and sympathetic advisers. Let us hope that the joint efforts of all will attain the objective in view, namely, "right man for the right job and a job for every man", substantially obviating the dangers of unemployment consequent upon the much apprehended slump.

"AMERICANS HAVE INHERITED BR. EMPIRE"

CHICAGO, May 26 (U.P.A.): The American people, for all practical purposes, "inherited" the British Empire seven years ago without realising it, political geographer Malcolm J. Proudfoot declared recently.

"We hold all the blue chips in the international poker game, he said. "We can call Russia's bluff any time we choose."

"This is an ironic fact, when you consider that the American people fought a global war with no hopes whatsoever of becoming the most powerful nation in the world. We won our strength by defeating an attempt by a combination of two other nations to control the world."

Proudfoot is an Associate Professor of Geography at North-Western University and an expert on political geography. During the war he served as Chief of the Operational Analysis Section of the Displaced Persons Branch of Supreme Allied Headquarters in Europe.

He said England was nearly broke in 1940, when it started receiving lend-lease from the United States.

"We gained virtual control of 60 to 90 per cent of the world's resources when we combined forces with the British Commonwealth of Nations in starting lend-lease", he said. "Today we not only have economic influence over the British Dominions and Colonies, but also of other nations, such as the Philippines, Japan and China."

GLOBAL RESPONSIBILITIES

Proudfoot said the first indications that the United States was fully aware of its global responsibilities came when the Truman doctrine was announced and Secretary of State George C. Marshall began challenging Russian proposals and actions at the Foreign Ministers' Conference in Moscow.

"Truman's announced policy toward Greece and Turkey, the work of the straight-shooter we sent to Moscow, and American attempts to make the United Nations work mean that we have come to our maturity as the most powerful nation in the world", Proudfoot said.

Russian Bluff Called

"Until then the Russians had been bluffing unmercifully. They don't have a thing to back their loud talk."

Proudfoot said the Russians would need a strong fleet before they could control the world. They not only do not have a large navy and merchant marine, but it appears they do not know how to operate large numbers of ships, he said.

"We know how to operate a fleet, and we have one", he added. "The Russians evidently don't know how to operate even a bomber fleet."

Today, he said, the United States has at its disposal the fleets of the British Commonwealth of Nations and other countries. It has ports, resources and production power.

"It only remains to be seen whether we will meet our responsibility in working for world peace", Proudfoot said.

Firmness With Russia Does Not Increase War Chances

NEW YORK, May 26 (U.P.A.): In his broadcast speech, Mark Clark U S. Military Governor for Austria declared "I am convinced that to be firm and definite in our relations with the Soviet Union does not increase the chances of war but reduces them."

TERRITORIAL AND NOT COMMUNAL BASIS

Deo On Congress Attitude To Pakistan

AHMEDABAD, May 26 (A.P.I.): Mr. Shankerrao Deo, General Secretary of the Congress, said at a press conference today that the Congress had conceded the principle of self-determination on territorial basis and not on communal lines.

The Rajaji Formula, Mr. Deo added, was based on that principle and the League could have worked it. The Congress stood for United India with one common Centre but refused to coerce any territorial unit to remain in the Union against its will. It was a painful operation which had to be performed in a voluntary union. Working on that principle, East Punjab and West Bengal could not be dragged into Pakistan.

So far as the Frontier was concerned, Mr. Deo said, elections were held on the issue of Pakistan, and the verdict must remain till a new constitution was framed. There was nothing to prevent a change in the verdict to be effected if recorded after fresh elections. Assam was on a different footing from the Frontier. It was not a Muslim majority Province, and the Congress could not accept the claim of the League to Assam.

Answering a question on controls, Mr. Deo said that controls were not working in favour of the Congress, and a large bulk of Congressmen felt that they should be removed.

Referring to his recent declaration that Bombay should be included in Maharashtra, Mr. Deo said that it was his opinion and nothing had happened to make him change it. He had grounds to hold the opinion, and when the time for redistribution of Provinces on Linguistic Basis came, those who had to say anything could put forth their cases before the competent authority.

D. F. Karaka:

Off My Chest

Over the week-end I ran into the American Consul-General in Bombay, Mr. John J. Macdonald. Over the week-end also, I received my current copy of the "New York Times" Magazine", in which there is an article by Meyer Berger on the second anniversary of the death of the late President Roosevelt. I had told Mr. Macdonald how much more goodwill could be created between our two countries if, instead of sending us a warship on a three-day goodwill mission, we could have half a dozen young, progressive American students from American universities on a visit to this country, just as there was a visiting team of Oxford, Cambridge and British university men visiting us a few years before the war. There must be a number of war-returned young men at the American universities whom this country would welcome on such a visit.

I became even more certain of that idea of mine when I read the article in the "New York Times." It told us how a Roosevelt legend exists in the U. S. and how the man who gave birth to the Four Freedoms is worshipped after his death. "There is an awesome presence here. Each pilgrim senses it. It is a strangely mystic something that comes through the teeming rain and panting summer heat.....They speak of Franklin Roosevelt as though they'd known him all their lives; as if he still lives on."

There is, according to Superintendent Palmer, who looks over the Roosevelt estate at Hyde Park, a force which sends people to this shrine from all over the world, because this American spot has come to mean something to the free peoples of the world. The reason perhaps is that there are many young, progressive Americans who would like to build a Four-Freedoms world.

There is, in this country also, an acute sense of feeling for freedom among the more intelligent, enlightened young men of our generation. This common denominator is in the universities of all countries today. More than Governments, more than official pronouncements, more than battleships, young men who believe in this New Deal world can spread the gospel of peace and the message of goodwill among the nations of the world.

So let us have some young Americans here at this moment, when we are on the threshold of a new era in this country. Let the Americans see us as different from that picture of caste, purdahs, and religions, so often painted in the United States.

INDIAN STUDENTS IN ENGLAND

Rumganadhan's Tribute At Progressive Group Reception

BOMBAY Monday

Sir Samuel Runganadhan, retiring High Commissioner for India in London and Lady Runganadhan were given a reception by the Progressive Group at the Green's Hotel this evening.

Sir Samuel after describing the difficult period of war in England said that the Indian students showed great powers of endurance. Their main difficulty, however, was that of housing. It was mainly because of Sir Samuel that a Government hotel was opened in London to accommodate them. The speaker suggested the opening of international halls of Residence in Great Britain for students from all countries, so that they could mix freely with one another.

Sir Samuel asked students who wanted to go to England to know the conditions that existed at present. He described the conditions as very disheartening

MIRACLE MAN WITH UNRIVALLED POWER

JYOTISH SHAMRAT PANDIT RAMESH CHANDRA BHATTACHARYA

JYOTISH-SHIROMANI, YOGAVIDYA-BIBHUSAN JYOTISHARNAB, SAMUDRIKRATNA, M.R.A.S. (LONDON), the internationally famed President of the All-India Astrological and Astronomical Society of 105, Grey Street, Calcutta and India's greatest and unrivalled astrologer and palmist with profoundest knowledge in Eastern as well as Western Astrology, Palmistry Tantras and Yogic Shastras.

President

This Yogi, endowed with miraculous powers, has startled the whole world by his genius to predict accurately in detail a man's past, present and future at the very sight of him—a challenge to a world swayed by skepticism and unbelief. His tantric and astrological powers have not only amazed the general public, high government officials, the big Indian Leaders and the princes in India—but cutting across the frontiers of India, they have made themselves felt in England, Europe, U.S.A., China, Japan, Malay, Strait Settlements, Singapore, and in various other remote parts of the world.

The originals of the innumerable unsolicited letters of appreciation written by distinguished personages in these countries that Panditji has received and many other letters that are daily pouring in can be inspected at the Head Office of the Society.

Jyotish-Shamrat Pandit Ramesh Chandra is the only astrologer in India or world who predicted the Allied Victory within 4 hours of the declaration of War in September, 1939. The fulfilment of this miraculous prophecy has earned for him praise and honour from His Majesty King George VI, the Governor-General and Viceroy of India and the Governor of Bengal. Similarly the predictions made by Panditji (vide his Telegram No. 19 dated September 3, 1946 of the Hatkhola Post Office and the Society's Office letter No. 7365 dated Sept. 6, 1946) about the future of the Interim Government headed by India's great political leader Pandit Nehru within one hour of its formation on September 2, 1946 are being gradually proved. Besides he is the permanent advising astrologer to eighteen Ruling princes of India.

In recognition of his profound scholarship, genius and miraculous powers more than a hundred scholars and professors from all over India honoured him with the title of "Jyotish-Shiromani" at the convention of Bharatia Pandit Mahamandal at Calcutta in December, 1938.

This honour has been followed by a yet greater honour in February 9, 1947 when in the presence of over two-hundred and fifty renowned scholars and professors from various parts of India he was bestowed with that unique and greatest of all titles in astrology "Jyotish Samrat" at the annual convention of Benares Pandit Sabha at Benares. It is to be noted here that no Astrologer in India has received this signal honour in the annals of India till to-day.

With the help of Yogic and tantric rites this great Pandit has cured innumerable cases of difficult and dangerous diseases which were given up in despair by physicians and Kavirajas, helped win complex legal suits, freed men from all kinds of danger, blessed childless families with children and brought security, peace and prosperity in life to thousands of people.

Men who have lost all hope in their lives and feel lost are requested to consult Panditji and judge for themselves the miraculous and unbelievable powers of Panditji.

Simplex And Swadeshi Shares Move Up On Stock Exchange

COTTON PRICES DECLINE ON LONG LIQUIDATION

Increased Offerings Depress Bullion Markets

BOMBAY, May 26.—The Bombay Stock Exchange opened quiet and declined few points under scattered selling but thereafter the market steadily improved under active buying of Simplex and Kohinoor Shares. There is a growing belief that the decline in these Shares as well as in Swadeshi is overdone and Shorts are inclined to cover and some sold-out bulls are also replacing. However a section is still inclined to await political developments but the general belief is that present level is attractive even if prices decline in the near future. Thus there is absence of any selling and the market looks like stabilising around present levels.

Tata Steel Defd. shares opened at Rs. 1845 and after declining at Rs. 1830 advanced at Rs. 1852. Ordinary Shares opened at 370 and after touching Rs. 367 rallied at Rs. 370 Bombay Dyeing shares opened at Rs. 960 and advanced at Rs 980 Kohinoors opened at Rs. 620 and after declining at Rs. 618 rose to Rs. 632. Simplex shares opened at Rs. 320 and advanced at Rs. 325. Swadeshi Shares opened at Rs. 606 and after declining at Rs. 602 improved at Rs. 610.

Towards the close the market was steady and Tata Steel Dfds. were done at Rs. 1855. Bombay Dyeings were quoted at Rs. 982. Simplex Shares were quoted at Rs. 334 and Kohinoors stood at Rs. 631|4. Associated Cements were done at Rs. 170. Central Bank Shares were quoted at Rs. 92 and Scindias were placed at Rs. 29.

After the close the market sentiment turned bearish on disappointing news and Tata Steel Dfds. were quoted a little under Rs. 1,800.

NEW YORK CLOTH MARKET REVIEW.

NEW YORK, May 24, (U. P. A.): A United Press America review of the Worth Steet Cotton Cloth Market today said that foreign buyers seeking large quantities of high-count printcloth yarns and sheeting constructions took the play away this week from domestic buyers. While home buyers followed a cautious policy imbued by consumer price resistance talk, overseas consumers were estimated to have secured "many millions" of cards for both spot and nearby delivery. Executives agreed that the lower prices resulting from the recent White House statement on the price situation furnished the spark needed to revive the demand from foreign sources. Sellers indicated that while the demand was worldwide most goods were sold or earmarked for the Mid-Eastern, African and Australian markets.

Bids on the popular 39-inch, 80-square four-yard print, number of which, only a few weeks ago sold as low as 25 cents per yard on small allocations, were raised to 31 cents per yard.

While many domestic buyers hesitated, hoping for a decline in prices, some leading chain and mail order outlets continued to sample the market for prices and deliveries. Brokers said the need to rebuild inventories for fall promotions was expected to bring actual purchases soon. The chief interest was centered on the impending opening of the fall cloak and suit lines.

TAPASE'S ADVICE TO HARIJANS

Unite And Take Full Advantage Of Reforms

BOMBAY, Monday.

"The Chamhhars have been a downtrodden community for centuries past and this feeling has created an almost ineradicable inferiority complex in their minds. It should be replaced by the social and political awakening which has come upon them in late notably since Mahatma Gandhi took up the cause of the untouchables, observed Mr G. D Tapase Minister for Backward Classes Government of Bombay, inaugurating the first session of the North Thana Harijan Conference at Dahanu on Sunday.

Mr. Tapase said that Government had already passed legislative measures for the removal of social disabilities on Harijan and more were still on the anvil of the Assembly. "It is now for you to unite and prepare for taking the fullest advantage of these reforms."

The Minister reiterated the readiness of the Government to spend the maximum amount of money on ameliorative measures and said that the Post-War Reconstruction Plan had provided for several amenities, such as better water supply for villages, roads, schools and hospitals in addition to special provision made for the social and economic uplift of the Harijans.

Answering criticisms to the effect that leather work was a low and filthy industry the Minister said that if the young men of the Chambhar community took to higher scientific training and reorganised their industry the latter was possible of being developed to the highest pitch of prosperity and it would turn them into one of the wealthiest communities in the country.

Belgian Cotton Delegation Members Talk With Local Interest

BOMBAY, May 26. (A. P. I.): Mr. August Trevernier, member of the Belgian cotton Delegation to India predicted in the week-end the possibility of the creation of a large-scale spot market in cotton in Ghent, which "would provide ready cotton for the whole of Western Europe".

Mr. Taevernier, who was speaking at a party given at the Taj Mahal Hotel given to him and M. Jacques Claessens, another Member of the Delegation, by members of the East India Cotton Association expressed the hope that the "Ghent contract rules," framed by "Comptoir Cotonnier" (Belgian Cotton Association) and adopted by the East India Cotton Association, would "stimulate our mutual business."

"The Ghent contract will facilitate matters, he said, "and it is our intention to give the shippers who will consign cotton on Ghent, a very fair treatment. Our contract is not one-sided: It's main object is to favour our cotton trade with India and codify the terms of business which have been in force between our two countries for so long a time."

Mr. Taevernier and Mr. Claessens, arrived in Bombay on May 12, have been holding with the members of the East India Cotton Association and other cotton interests in Bombay on the Ghent contract.

HYDERABAD AFFAIRS

Campaign Against Sir Mirza Ismail

(From A Special Correspondent)

HYDERABAD (Dn.), May 25.

Throughout last week wild rumours have been circulated by interested parties about Sir Mirza Ismail's reported resignation as Prime Minister of the Hyderabad State as a result of alleged difference of opinion between him and the Nizam on the important issue of the Constituent Assembly and also on internal affairs. A local Press agency is now given definitely to understand that as a sequel to Sir Walter Monckton's (Constitutional Adviser to Hyderabad State) talks with Sir Mirza recently in Bangalore where the latter had gone for rest, he has submitted his resignation to His Exalted Highness which in due course will be accepted.

By a strange coincidence the local Ittahad-ul-Muslemin held its annual session last week during the course of which a campaign was opened against Sir Mirza for his so-called anti-Muslim policy and for going all out to pacify the extravagant demands of the Hindus and the State Congress. In reality it was an anti-Mirza demonstration. Very serious allegations without any specific proof were made against his person. He was accused of being anti-Muslim and anti-Urdu. Eventually a strongly worded resolution of no-confidence was passed against him and he was called upon to quit Hyderabad and leave the Deccan Mussalmans alone. Even prior to his appointment as Premier, the Ittahadul-Muslemin had been against him. The conspiracy resulting in his displacement yet remains to be explained when it does see the light of day, it will show a strange combination. It has been the rare characteristic of the Muslim psychological make up to spurn and kick those who strive to serve his cause best. Hakim Ajmal and Dr. Ansari were abused in their days. Mahammad Ali had been called a "traitor." So is poor Mirza Ismail. Only if the Deccan Mussalmans had the patience and forbearance to judge him by his deeds and see the fruits of his labours, Mirza Ismail would have himself acquitted of the imaginary crimes with credit. He would have undubitably turned Hyderabad into a first class industrialised state of India.

Although the reported resignation lacks confirmation, if it is true as the local press would have us believe, Hyderabad has lost a top-most administrator and a real benefactor. The peasants and workers would cherish long his memory as a sympathiser.

PUBLIC NOTICE
IMPORT TRADE CONTROL

WITH A VIEW to make the best possible use of India's foreign exchange resources and further to restrict the imports of certain consumer and other unesssential goods which have already arrived in the country in very substantial quantities, the whole Import Trade Control policy has been reviewed. The revised policy will come into force with effect from the next shipping period beginning from the 1st July 1947 but applications for the period will, however, be accepted on or after the 25th May, 1947. As a result of this review, it has been decided to cancel forthwith Open General Licences Nos. 1 and III applicable to imports from Ceylon, Portuguese possessions in India and any country contiguous to the land frontiers of India and to withdraw the existing Open General Licence VII applicable to imports from U. K. and other Empire countries excepting Canada, Newfoundland and South Africa. A fresh Open General Licence in supersession of the existing O.G.L. VII, which is now being withdrawn is, however, being simultaneously published.

2. Notifications giving effect to the above decisions are being published in the Gazette of India Extraordinary dated 16-5-47.

3. In order to avoid any dislocation of trade, it has been decided that all goods covered by present O.G.Ls. Nos. 1 and III and those which are not included in the new O.G.L. being issued in supersession of the existing O.G.L.VII should be allowed to be imported without any licence if shipped on or before the 30th June, 1947. Similarly, goods covered by O.G.L. VIII which was cancelled on the 14th March, 1947 will be allowed to be imported without licence provided shipment is made on or before the 30th June, 1947. As it is possible that some firm orders may already have been placed for goods covered by O.G.Ls. I, III, VII and VIII and as it is necessary that commitments already made should, as far as possible, be honoured, it has been decided to issue licences as indicated below provided applications are made to the Chief Controller of Imports, Church Road, New Delhi, on or before the 15th June, 1947.

(a) Where irrevocable letters of credit have been opened, licences will be granted for the value of the letters of credit and will be valid for shipment up to the date of the validity of the credit.

(b) Where business is not generally done on letter of credit system, licences will be granted on production of documentary evidence that firm orders were placed and accepted before the 14th March, 1947, in the case of O.G.L. VIII and before the 16th May 1947 in the case O.G.Ls. Nos. I, III and VII. These licences will be valid for shipment up to 30th September, 1947.

4. A separate Public Notice is being issued regarding revalidation of licences which now expire on the 30th of June, 1947.
